

ICR Appoints John C. Sorensen as Chief Financial Officer and Managing Director for Bankruptcy & Restructuring Communications

Westport, Conn., (March 31, 2009) – ICR, a leading strategic financial communications consulting firm specializing in strategic investor relations, corporate communications and digital media, announced today the appointment of John C. Sorensen, 46, as Chief Financial Officer and Managing Director for Bankruptcy & Restructuring Communications.

“John’s financial and operational experience, coupled with his background in crisis management, make him an ideal addition to our team at ICR,” commented Don Duffy, President, ICR. “We look forward to his contributions to both our internal management structure and to our crisis management team, where John’s experience will provide additional depth to our practice. John is another of example of how ICR differentiates itself by bringing senior professionals with tangible experience into the business of financial communications.”

Mr. Sorensen will also draw upon his extensive operational experience to provide financial crisis communication advisory services to clients in the area of bankruptcy and restructuring. He brings 25 years of financial and operating experience with both private equity and public companies. His experience in crisis and change management – including helping to lead two publicly-held companies through bankruptcy, working with the capital markets in highly leveraged environments, and mergers and acquisitions – will add further depth to the firm’s capabilities in this area.

Prior to joining Kaman in 2006 as vice president and treasurer, Mr. Sorensen held similar executive management positions for Visant Corp., Armonk, NY, World Kitchen, Inc., Reston, VA, US Office Products Company, Washington, DC, ARINC Incorporated, Annapolis, MD, and Bank of America, Washington, DC. He is a graduate of Gettysburg College., with a bachelor’s degree in business administration, and he received an MBA in finance from Loyola College. John and his two children live in Westport, Connecticut.

About ICR

ICR is a leading financial communications firm specializing in investor relations, corporate communications and digital media. Established in 1998, ICR represents more than 225, primarily publicly listed companies and maintains offices in Westport, Conn., New York, Los Angeles, Boston and Beijing. ICR is one of the industry's fastest growing consultancies, and is consistently listed among the nation's top independent communications consulting firms. www.icrinc.com

Media contact:

Liz Brady

646.277.1226

liz.brady@icrinc.com

###